FRIDAY.....SEPTEMBER 9, 1910

WHAT HAWAII BOUGHT OF THE MAINLAND.

As before stated, the domestic merchandise shipped from the States to Hawaii in the year 1910 amounted to $20,289,917, which was $3,095,798 more than in 1909 and $5,650,390 more than in 1908, the years considered respectively ending on June 30. A glance at some of the items making up the twenty and odd millions of Hawaii's purchases of domestic products of the mother country is worth while for two purposes—first, to show leading staples of kinds that are produced in Hawaii, the importations of which may be reduced by the development of the resources of the islands, and, second, items whose increased imports indicate progress and prosperity in this Territory.

Agricultural implements for the three years past have varied but slightly, having been $31,286 for 1908, $35,106 for 1909 and $30,816 for 1910.

Animals to the value of $190,502 were imported the past year, being $2181 more than in 1908 and $124,056 less than in 1909. Under this head cattle were good for $16,980, which is $8820 less than in 1908, but $8430 more than in 1909. Fowls make $5413, or slightly less than in either of the two previous years. Hogs at $4637 were $926 in excess of 1908, but fell below 1909 by $13,250. Horses show a decline for two years, the $28,700 for 1910 being $96,191 less than for 1909 and $512 less than for 1908. Mules, $133,995, represent a decrease of $22,715 from 1909 but an increase of $25,848 over 1908. Hawaii appears to raise practically all its own sheep, the imports having been $519 in 1910, $124 in 1909 and $410 in 1908. Of all other animals the imports the past year were $207, as compared with $245 in 1909 and $3527 in 1908.

Art works show a decided increase, the imports of such having been $15,534 against $1870 in 1909 and $4405 in 1908.

Breadstuffs, etc., indicate no great change for two years. The figure for the past year was $1,904,793, which is $56,644 less than for 1909 but $229,906 more than for 1908. Under the same general head animal feed shows a decided reduction for two years. This item was $476,921, being $156,095 less than in 1909 and $85,105 less than the year before.

Cars, carriages, etc., were enormously increased, their value having more than doubled since 1908. For 1910 the amount was $938,573, which is $231,033 more than in 1909 and $486,527 in excess of the 1908 imports. The items of automobiles and parts thereof under the general head just mentioned make up $745,498, being $231,033 and $486,527 in excess of 1909 and 1908 respectively. Nearly three-quarters of a million dollars sent to the mainland for automobiles in one year is indicative of prosperous conditions.

Coffee imports to a coffee country should not show an increase, yet it does so progressively for two years. The value of this article imported in 1908 was $14,715; in 1909, $16,874, and in 1910, $19,271.

Fertilizers keep evenly at nearly a round million a year, the amount for the past year being $957,480, an increase of $159,271 over 1909 and $44,501 over 1908.

Fish was imported to the tune of $349,901—large for a country swimming in piscatorial pastures. This item was $290,695 in 1908 and $321,233 the year after.

Fruits and nuts show a considerable increase, the value being $240,861. This is $49,574 over 1909 and $58,503 over 1908. It is satisfactory to note that our home peanut crop is all-sufficient, there being none of this popular article of random diet imported last year. In 1908 only $112 worth was brought in, and in 1909 the trifle of $30.

Iron and steel and their manufactures—forming a fairly trustworthy criterion of prosperous industries—show an increase of more than a million over 1908 and more than half a million over 1909. The figures are $3,229,969 for 1910, $2,644,315 for 1909 and $2,112,933 for 1908.

Meat and dairy produce—a category that should in time be reduced—was imported to the value of $848,618, being $83,063 over 1909 and $212,082 over 1908. Butter, $179,791, is about $9000 increase for the year.

Mineral oil, an item going into local industries, transportation and road making, was imported to the value of $1,547,179, a year's increase of about $300,000.

Rice, a home staple, shows a decline, the figure being $2600, a little more than half the amount for either of the two previous years.

Soap was imported to the amount of $137,695, an increase of $21,491. Of the total $19,745 represents toilet or fancy soap, being $35 less than for the previous year.

Spirits, wines and malt liquors from the mainland show a slight increase, the amount for 1910 being $565,038, or $3989 above 1909 and $52,311 above the year before.

Tobacco and its manufactures increased by $52,831, the amount for 1910 being $659,661.

Vegetables slightly increased over 1909 and considerably over the year before. For 1910 the item was $233,506, which is $904 over 1909 and $11,494 over 1908.

Wood and its manufactures were $1,418,628 against $1,096,390 in 1909 and $855,389 in 1908. Lumber, under this head, increased two or three hundred thousand dollars.

There is a county convention about to assemble which comprises power enough to control its actions so as to ensure acceptable Territorial and municipal tickets. The danger lies in the dissipation of energy by those who are after good government and nothing more, in working at odds with each other, and that stubbornly, for a greater number of unexceptionable candidates than are to be elected.

A good platform is of great importance for the county campaign. The last one of the Republican party has been completely redeemed by the majority sent to the board. But one pledge has not been fulfilled, the reason being that the legislature failed to provide either authority or means therefor. That was the plank for a municipal building. In all other respects the board has done its duty to the citizens, administering all affairs in a businesslike way, with efficiency and economy.

A recent issue of the Washington Star contains an item that shows the Government to mean business with regard to establishing a full regiment of cavalry at Schofield Barracks. It says that plans are being prepared in the War Department for barracks and officers' quarters of a permanent cavalry post at that place with a view to accommodating a regiment of cavalry. The cost of the buildings is estimated at $600,000.

Uncle Walt

The Poet Philosopher

They doom you, Dobbin, now and then, they say your usefulness is gone; some blame fool thing designed by men has put the equine race in pawn. They doomed you, and your hopes were low, when bicycles were all the rage; they said: "The horse will have to go—he lags superfluous on the stage!" They doomed you when the auto-car was given its resplendent birth. "Thus sinks the poor old horse's star—he'll have to beat it from the earth!" And now they're dooming you some more, there are so many motor things; men scorch the earth with sulker roar, or float around on hardware wings. They doom you, Dobbin, now and then, and call you has-been, and the like; but while this world is breeding men, the horse will still be on the pile. No painted thing of cogs and wheels and contrails made of noisy brass can ever supplant a horse's heels or make man grudge a horse his grace. No man-made trap of bars and springs can love or confidence impart, nor give the little neigh that brings emotion to the horseman's heart. O build your cars and ships and planes, and doom old Dobbin as you will! While men have souls and hearts and brains, old Dobbin shall be with us still!

LANE DENIES THE CAPTAIN

PARKER AND JOHN WISE STORIES

John Lane this morning denied in toto the story published to the effect that he was working for Captain Parker for sheriff, and that he had promised the road supervisory to John Wise and another job to his brother, Lot Lane.

"I have made absolutely no promises to anyone, but am abiding by the rules of the party," said Lane. "I have always abided by the rules and been a consistent, staunch Republican, and I shall do so, no matter what the convention does. Let men beat me if they can in the convention by convincing the convention that someone else is a better man, but not by these kind of stories, which are dirty work."

FLAXOAP

FLAXOAP is an absolutely pure Linseed Oil Soap. The United States Pharmacopoeia directs soft soap to be made from cold pressed linseed oil and potash. It is well known that a soap prepared in this way is the best soft soap that it is possible to make. Flaxoap contains no animal fat whatever and no free caustic alkali, consequently it can be used on the finest fabrics without fear of injury. Flaxoap lathers freely in hot or cold, hard or soft water. It is especially adapted to cleaning floors, woodwork and furniture. Owing to the fact that Pure Linseed Oil is the life of all Paints and Varnishes, it is the best cleaner for all painted and varnished surfaces. It will be found most excellent for cleaning automobiles, carriages, windows, mirrors, and cut glass. The housewife will find it particularly valuable in the cleaning of carpets and rugs. Mechanics use it for removing dirt or grease from their hands and clothing.
